

DPIE To Hold Meeting

The Ninth Annual Business Education Conference, sponsored by Nu Chapter of Delta Pi Epsilon, Business and Education fraternity, will be conducted on the UK campus July 13 and 14. The conference, to be held in the Student Union Building, was announced by Dr. Vernon A. Musselman, head of Business Education.

The purpose of the conference is to bring the latest trends in Business Education before teachers attending from all parts of the state.

Presiding at the Friday morning session will be Mr. Virgil Young, vice-president of Nu Chapter. Miss Katie Carpenter, president of Nu Chapter, will conduct the Friday luncheon. The Friday afternoon session will be conducted by Miss Margaret Bell Humphreys of the College of Commerce and Mrs. Dolores Cheek will preside Saturday morning.

Education Workshop To Begin July 16

The second annual Kentucky Workshop in Economic Education will begin a three-week meeting on the UK campus July 16, Keller Dunn, Assistant Adult and Extension Education College, announced.

It is expected that about 50 elementary and secondary school teachers and administrators in Kentucky will attend the meeting. In addition, consultants in various fields of economics will attend from throughout the United States.

The purpose in holding the workshop, Dunn said, is to give teachers in Kentucky a better understanding of the basic economic principles in the United States' economic system. It is felt that no matter which field the teacher is engaged in, an understanding of economics is essential to him, in that he can better grasp and teach his particular subject with a background in economics, Dunn said.

It is hoped that the workshop will develop materials to be used in instruction, and that the material will be used in classrooms.

The University of Louisville, Eastern Kentucky State College, the University of Kentucky, the Kentucky Council on Economic Education, and the Joint Council on Economic Education, are sponsoring the workshop, which will end August 3.

Subjects to be discussed at the meeting are "The Nature of Economic Order," "Personal Distribution of Income," "Wise Spending," "Government and Business," "The Position of Labor," and "The Position of Agriculture." All of the topics will be considered in a broad sense, and as they relate to Kentucky.

The director of the workshop will be Dr. Lyman V. Ginger, Dean, College of Adult and Extension Education at UK. Other University personnel who will participate in the program include Dr. C. C. Carpenter, Dr. H. W. Hargreaves, and Dr. Rodman Sullivan, all of the College of Commerce. Dr. Vernon A. Musselman of the College of Education will act as curriculum coordinator.

Last year's workshop was "thorough and successful," Dunn said, "but we will know better how the plan is working after this year's meeting." He added that specialists in each field will speak on a topic in which they are expert.

Female students attending the conference will be provided rooms in Jewell Hall, while male students will live in Donovan Hall.

UK Night At 'Road' Announced

A UK "Wilderness Road" night has been scheduled for Thursday, July 19, Dr. Hambleton Tapp, coordinator of the Summer Session, has announced.

Dr. Tapp said that tickets and transportation would be included in a "package deal." The tickets will cost $3.10, $3.85, and $4.35. The $3.10 covers the round trip to Berea and an un-reserved seat. The $3.85 and $4.35 includes reserved seats. Bus fare takes $1.35 of the cost of each ticket.

Tickets are on sale in the office of the Social Director, room 122, Student Union Building. They should be obtained before 4 p.m. Tuesday, July 17.

Dr. Tapp said the bus will leave at 6 p.m. He suggested that anyone planning to attend eat supper before leaving.

"Wilderness Road" is staged at Berea College's famous Indian Fort Theatre. It opened its second year in production Saturday night. Virtually the same drama as last year with a few changes in parts, singing and dancing, and staging was presented.

The historical drama depicts the role of a borderline state, Kentucky, in the Civil War. It shows the impact of the war on a community of mountain people where the feelings toward North and South were equally divided. The theme is built around actual events during the time of strife but characters are fictitious.

Paul Green, author of the play, is not new to the field of outdoor drama. Two of his most successful attempts before "Wilderness Road" were "The Lost Colony" and "The Common Glory" which follows the same historical setting as "Wilderness Road."

Picnic lunches can be purchased at the theatre and eaten in the wooded area provided for this purpose.

Dr. Frank G. Dickey, president-elect of the University, said "no commitments" have been made on "either side" concerning the possible selection of Dr. William R. Willard as dean of UK's proposed medical college.

Dr. Dickey indicated Dr. Willard knows of the situation, and the University is aware that Dr. Willard might be available, but that there have been no acceptances or rejections made by either the University or Dr. Willard.

"The purpose of Dr. Willard's recent visit to Kentucky," Dr. Dickey said, "was to act as consultant to the architects designing the new medical college buildings." Dr. Willard was "favorably impressed" with the University and with Kentucky, Dr. Dickey said, and he (Willard) said the "plans (for the medical college) represent a very high degree of planning."

Dr. Dickey said none of the four prospective candidates have been eliminated as possible deans. The four candidates were named in response to a University request to the American Medical Association and to deans of colleges throughout the United States, Dr. Dickey said. The four are: Dr. Robert Berson, dean of the University of Alabama School of Medicine; Dr. John Patterson, of the Western Reserve School of Medicine; Dr. Walter Wiggins of the American Medical Association staff in Chicago, and Dr. Willard. Dr. Dickey said no special attempt has been made to secure Dr. Willard as dean.

It is expected that the UK medical college will receive its first class in September, 1959, as scheduled, said Dickey, but "we will be working on a tight schedule."

Concerning the possible selection of the dean of the Education College, Dr. Dickey said there have been "no decisions" in the matter. "However," he said, "suggestions from UK staff members are being received." The deanship of the Education College will be left vacant when Dr. Dickey assumes the duties of president in September.

When asked when the new dean will be chosen, Dr. Dickey said "not before September."

'Men of Song' Quartet To Appear In Concert

By FRANCES EDNEY

Named one of the ten best musical attractions in America, "The Men of Song" will appear at a concert in Memorial Coliseum July 12, at 8:15 p.m., Mrs. C. D. Best, executive secretary of the Central Kentucky Concert and Lecture Series, said.

A vocal quartet, they will sing selections from Schubert, Beethoven, Brahms, Chopin, Rossini, Romberg, and Wolf, as well as an operatic excerpt and folk songs.

"The Men of Song" is a concert group of five men, including the quartet and a pianist arranger. The ensemble includes John Campbell and Carl Honzak, tenors; Thomas Head, baritone; Bruce Carithers, bass-baritone; and Charles Touchette, pianist and arranger. Mr. Touchette has especially arranged many of the numbers that the group will sing.

A graduate of Juilliard and Columbia, Mr. Campbell has appeared with leading symphony orchestras and has sung with the J. J. Shubert Repertoire Company. Mr. Honzak, tenor, is a graduate of the University of Chicago and has sung leading roles with the Chicago Symphony and Opera Theater.

Thomas Head, baritone, has appeared in many concerts and operas, including the TV versions of "Naughty Marietta," "The Chocolate Soldier," "The Desert Song," and "The Merry Widow."

The organizer of the group, Edmond Karisrud, bass, attended Minnesota University and the Juilliard School. Since formation of the quartet, he has appeared alone on radio, television, and in concerts with the Erie Philharmonic and Carnegie "Pops" orchestras.

The pianist-arranger, Charles Touchette, has toured the world with many artists. A graduate of the New England Conservatory, he has been associated with quartets, choral groups and all the major recording companies.

"The Men of Song" have appeared with Imogene Coca, Burl Ives, the Show of Shows, Fred Allen, Robert Q. Lewis, Martin and Lewis, the Calvacade of Stars, and with Margaret Truman on the Martha Raye program.

UNESCO recently chose "The Men of Song" to sing for a conference of foreign representatives, demonstrating American folk lore in music.

"The Men of Song" have made some highly successful recordings for RCA Victor Label "X" and Columbia Records.

This concert is being presented by the Central Kentucky Lecture and Concert Association. It is open to the public without any admission charge.

Although it has been the custom of the Association to sponsor a concert each year during summer school, they cannot continue to hold others unless there is more student support, Mrs. Best said.

Named one of the ten best musical attractions, the Men of Song will present a concert in the Coliseum July 12.

Kendel To Address Music Classes

Dr. John C. Kendel, vice-president of the American Music Conference and a leading authority in the field of music education, will address summer music classes at University of Kentucky, July 10 at 8 a.m. and at 10 a.m.

He will trace the evolution of music education, talk on modern music teaching procedures.

Filson Lecturer Says Pioneers Saw Future

By LOIS FLORENCE

"Challenge of the Heroic" was the subject of Dr. Walter B. Posey's lecture at The Filson Club summer meeting, Monday night.

Dr. Posey said that the pioneer visualized the creation of new things, but knew the methods had to be changed. These men and women learned the necessity of applying Christian principles to society. This attempt to Christianize presented a great challenge, Posey said.

The Presbyterian, Baptist, and Methodist denominations made the first movements in the pioneer undertaking, Posey said.

The great revival movement brought about higher education and improved citizenship in this way. Education was promoted by the Presbyterian church, which established four kinds of schools; the Methodist church provided reading material. It was still evident, Dr. Posey stated, that the masses of the people were not ready to be readers.

Dr. Posey showed a contrast between the Indian and the Negro in accepting Christianity. According to his viewpoint, the Indians did not care to learn and were reluctant to accept any of the new teaching.

The Negro, being cut off from his tribal customs and conditions, was inclined to accept the mores of the white man. The church was a door of hope and the only social institution in which they had a part. There was no special missionary program necessary for them until 1830.

Pioneers entered the west hoping to make man fit to worship God, but they found the scope of the challenge too great, the needs too demanding, and the problems too many to be solved, the lecturer said.

Although they were hampered by circumstances, the heroic pioneers were willing to accept this challenge.

Dr. Posey, an authority on religious history, is head of the History Department of Agnes Scott College.

Judge Davis W. Edwards, president of the Filson Club, introduced the speaker. A reception was held for Dr. Posey in the music room of the Fine Arts Building, following the talk.

Miller Wins Citation

James T. Miller, instructor in mechanical engineering, was awarded a first-place citation for a paper, titled "The Responsibility of the Engineering Colleges in Secondary Education of Prospective Engineers" at the 64th annual meeting of the American Society for Engineering Education, which met at Iowa State College, Ames, Ia.

Miller's paper asked engineering colleges to help high schools in preparing students for engineering schools. Among other actions, Miller urged that high school students' interest and initiative in science and mathematics be increased.

He reported that, of freshmen recently entering UK's College of Engineering, 12 per cent had not studied plane geometry, 63 per cent had no solid geometry, and 54 per cent needed remedial work in algebra.

Miller said "prime responsibility" for establishing a program that will permit adequate counseling, that will "increase the interest of high school teachers in engineering education," and one that will "help high schools provide courses in preparation for college study," is with the colleges.

Dr. Amry Vandenbosch, head of the political science department, is in Chicago at a meeting of UN advisors, this week.

Bank Meet July 8-12

The eleventh annual meeting of Kentucky bank executives will be held on the UK campus July 8-12, Dr. John T. Masten, associate professor of economics, said.

The workshop meeting will deal with the management of bank funds and with managerial decisions in the higher echelons of banking, Masten said.

The 60 senior banking officers from Kentucky, who will attend the meeting, will study in particular subjects as "Management Succession," and "Executive Development." Masten, who is in charge of the school, will talk on "Factors Effecting Interest Rates."

The object of the program, Masten said, is to improve banking methods and ideas, so that the citizens of Kentucky may ultimately be helped by banking problems studied here.

The workshop is sponsored by the Kentucky Bankers Association in cooperation with the University.

Summer school in Puebla, Mexico, is being conducted by Dr. Alberta W. Server, modern foreign languages department.

Math head, Dr. James C. Eaves, is at Louisiana State College, Baton Rouge, for consultation. He is also delivering guest lectures at the Mathematics Institute there.

Dr. Frank Prindl left Wednesday to conduct the Western Carolina State College Band Clinic.

Moore Back From Texas

Dr. Arthur K. Moore, professor of English, has returned to UK from the University of Texas, where he was visiting professor of English for the Spring semester.

While he was at the Texas school, in Austin, he taught a seminar in Chaucer, in addition to sophomore classes in English.

Dr. Moore said there is "a lot more brick and mortar" on the Texas campus, due primarily to one-quarter billion dollars in government bonds the school owns. "The school," he said, "uses the interest from the bonds for capital improvements."

"Texas has one of the two best libraries in the South," Moore continued, "with over one million volumes." He feels the 18,000 students there are "extremely enthusiastic," but that their study habits are not as "firmly fixed" as they might be.

Moore was impressed with the fight the "Daily Texan", the student newspaper, made to prevent control of the paper by the Board of Regents of the school.

A German staff member of the modern foreign language department, Dr. Gerhard Probst, is currently touring the United States. He is especially interested in the south and west but hopes to see part of Canada while returning to the eastern part of the nation.

Herlihy, Redding On Y-Forum

"Church's Viewpoint, I" will be presented by the YM-YWCA at 7 p.m. in the Y Lounge of the SUB, July 10.

First of a two part series to be discussed by the "Religion and the Public Schools" forum, it will feature Father J. Herlihy and Dr. George Redding.

Father Herlihy, chaplain to Roman Catholic students, will give a 20 minute speech on the viewpoints that are held by the Catholic Church concerning religion in non-sectarian schools.

Dr. Redding, of Georgetown College, will represent the Baptist church. He will also give a 20 minute speech on the same topic, from the Baptist slant. Following the lecture, there will be a question and answer period.

Keith Flowers will be the student chairman and moderator of the forum.

Mrs. Mary K. Duncan of the Education College is able to resume her University duties after a brief stay in the hospital.

Band Concert To Be July 10

Two artists will be the main features in the University Summer Band Concert at 7:15 p.m., Tuesday, July 10, in the Amphitheater at Memorial Hall.

Prof. Warren will play a clarinet solo, and Charles Blair will play a cornet solo. The band is under the direction of Prof. J. W. Worrel of the Music Department. The program will begin with a standard overture. Included in the concert will be excerpts from musical comedies.

Guests of honor at the concert will be band directors who are attending the Summer Band Workshop.

In case of rain, the concert will be held inside Memorial Hall.

Dr. C. Raymond Barnhart, department of art, has recently returned from a sabbatical leave in Mexico and California.

dents at the University, is making a study of the Sloan Experiment in Applied Economics.

He is an elementary school supervisor in a mountain province. "Boq" said that helping improve the lives of the rural people is one of the major objectives of rural education in the Philippines.

"The Kentucky experiment has a very close relationship to what the community schools in my country are doing for the rural folks," he added.

He is attending UK on a grant from the Institute of International Education. He is working with Dr. A. D. Albright, director of the Bureau of School Service, and Dr. Leonard E. Meece, College of Education.

Before enrolling at UK he attended Northeast Missouri State Teachers College, Kirksville, Mo. There he studied the organization and administration of the rural schools of one of the Missouri counties and obtained his Master's degree in Elementary (Rural) Education.

"Boq" has received Fulbright and Smith-Mundt grants from the State Department.

He plans to return to his home country after the summer term at UK.

Among the many foreign students enrolled at UK is a 27 year old Columbian.

Pedro Herrera's home town is Bogota, the capital city of the South American country.

Pedro came to the United States five years ago and plans to stay here until he completes work for a bachelor's degree in Architectural Engineering.

He attended Columbia University for two years and later transferred to Ohio University at Athens.
